

We strive to contribute to local economy by assisting people with capital and skills to come to Australia, and assist Australia business to explore overseas market, mainly the China market.

1. Migration and settlement services

We specialise in employer sponsored visa categories, including Employer Nomination Scheme (ENS), Regional Sponsored Migration Scheme (RSMS), and working visa (Subclass 457).

These visas allow skilled people to come to Australia to work for local employers on a temporary or permanent basis.

We work with reputable training organizations and recruitment agents in China to secure reliable supply of skilled people in a variety of trade occupations. They must pass stringent skill assessment and English IELTS test. They will also have had OH&S training as required in Australian workplaces. If you are interested in hiring people from overseas, please contact us to see if we can help.

2. Employment services

We assist skilled new immigrants to find suitable jobs in the local labour market. Many new immigrants don't have any knowledge about the local workplace, and we assist them to become integral productive part of the local community by helping them find jobs matching their skill sets.

3. International trade and investment assistance

Most of our team members are from China, with knowledge and understanding of the business environment in both Australia and China. We assist Chinese business people to invest in Australia using our local knowledge. We also help Australian business to develop distribution channels in the China market.
